The Bedford Gazette.

PERSEVERE.

There's nothing like an earnest will
To struggle through the world,
And to repel the arrows still
By Fate against us hurled.
The bourne may be a distant one,
Which we may wish to gain,
And our path may be a weary one,
'Mid sorrow, want, and pain;
But if resolve be steadfast still,
'Twill be our guiding ray,
For where there is an earnest will
We're sure to find the way.

Our night may be a starless night,
Our path a tangled maze,
But yet our eyes shall soon behold
The morning's golden blaze;
Keeping our gaze upon the East,
Leaving the night behind,
With the will to find the light increased,
And strengthened in our minds;
The sun shall rise, the gloom depart,
Lost in the strength of day,
For earnest will and trustful heart
Are sure to find a way.

THE LITTLE STRAWBERRY GIRL.

The rain came down in torrents. The lightning blazed, the thunder crashed, the wind blew a tornado. Neither I nor my horses had ever been out in such a storm.

I was at this time a young man of twenty-one, who had just been admitted to the bar, and was now at the country seat I had inherited. Most of my time was spent in the saddle, or when it was too hot for riding, in driving my pair of chestnut sorrels, whose pedigree went back to the Godolphin Arabian.

Suddenly I heard a childish voice as if in distress. I pulled up and looked around. Under a tree at the roadside, where she had sought shelter from the storm, was a little girl about ten years old—the most beautiful child I had ever seen. She had been out after wild strawberries, to judge from a basket on her arm.

I threw the reins to my groom and jumped down.

"Please, sir, won't you take me home?" piped the little voice, her big, brown eyes looking at me, half shyly, yet courageously.

If there had been such a thing as falling in love with a child of that age, I should have lost my heart then and there, she looked so arch and bewitching.

I soon had her in my phæton, promising to take her home. She was on a visit with her aunt, she said, at the "Crown Hotel, on the hill;" a favorite resort, as I knew, for citizens spending their summers in my part of the country. Her shyness soon wore off, and she chattered away as if she had known me for years. She was still rattling on when we drew up at the hotel, and her aunt, in a greaf fright, came out to receive her. As the rain was pouring down and there was no cover to my phæton, I did not stop to listen to the profuse thanks, but drove swiftly down the hill, and so homeward. It was not till the hotel was out of sight, that I remembered I had not asked the name of my little strawberry girl; and, when, the next day, I rode over to inquire if she had caught cold, I found she had left for the city, her aunt having received an unexpected summons home.

"Mrs. Burgoyne was so sorry you couldn't stay yesterday," said the landlord, "or that she couldn't wait to thank you for taking care of her niece, a poor little orphan, sir."

Often that summer, as I passed the thicket where I had first seen the little strawberry girl, I wondered if I should ever meet her in the great metropolis. And after I had returned to town it was months before I gave up the habit of scrutinizing every childish face I passed, in hopes of recognizing my favorite; for, by constant thinking of her, she had grown to be such. Many a time, in my lonely chambers, as I sat looking into the embers of my fire, late at night, I indulged in a vague dream of educating just such a child to be my wife.

Seven years passed. Gradually the memory of the little strawberry girl grew dimmer. I went abroad, visiting every capital of Europe, spending a winter up the Nile, and dreaming away a month by the famed waters of Damascus. On my return I grew absorbed in my profession. So I had but small leisure for idle reveries. Yet the face of my favorite would continually come up to me. I had never seen it since that day; but I knew that if I did I should recognize it among a thousand. I pictured to myself the changes which years had made in it. And I fancied a tall, willowy figure, with wonderful chestnut hair, and great, spiritual, brown eyes.

One winter, worn down by excessive labor, I took a trip to Ireland. The return voyage was very rough, and there were few passengers on deck. I was leaning over the rail, not far from the stern, when I heard a splash, and simultaneous the awful cry, "A man overboard!"

I looked down. A little head was disappearing in the water about midships; whoever had fallen so close to the wheel had probably been killed by the paddles; but a woman's wild scream, "My boy, my boy!" ringing out, sharp and shrill, and oh, with such agony, made me disregard all this, and I plunged in.

I reasoned that, by the time I could reach the water the lad would have drifted near to where I struck it, so that, if alive, and to be saved at all, he must be saved by me. Of my own personal risk I thought nothing. I was a good swimmer, but the chance of rescuing thus a drowning person, is, under any circumstances, very slim, while with a steamer at full speed, it is too remote to calculate. But I did not think of this.

I remembered going down, down, down, through the dark water whilst just below me, an indistinct object which I knew to be the child, kept sinking and sinking, ever beyond my reach. At last, with a desperate effort, I grasped it by the shoulder. Then began the real peril of the undertaking. The boy, instinctively, strove to seize me around the neck. If he succeeded, we would both, I knew, be drowned. Desperation gave him unusual strength, and once or twice he nearly gained his object. There was a moment, indeed, when I was almost tempted to throw him off, for my strength was nearly exhausted, and we were still a long way below the surface. But with a sudden exertion, I got him at arm's length and held him there, while I used the other arm in swimming. Up and up we went; it seemed interminable. The blood rushed to my eyes. My brain spun around. Should we ever reach the upper air? Suddenly, the light grew brighter and we shot into the blessed sunshine.

I glanced around, hurriedly shaking the water from my eyes, to see if I could discover the steamer. There she was, half a mile away, blowing off steam, the rails and rigging crowded with people on the lookout; and, blessed sight! a boat, powerfully manned, was putting out from her side, with quick, sharp strokes, that promised speedy relief if we could only be seen. But the waves were still running high, and, even as I looked, a gigantic one lifted itself between me and the steamer, shutting her out from sight, while I sank, as if shot down the ice slope, into a vast trough below.

It seemed an age before I rose on another wave. Then I caught sight of the steamer and boat again for an instant, the latter lying on its oars, uncertain which way to pull. Again the remorseless wave rose between me and hope; again I sank down into the pitiless gulf. Three times I rose and sank. The third time I felt would be the last; for the lad, during all this, had never intermitted his frantic struggles, and had now utterly exhausted my strength. That last time, I could just feebly wave my right hand in the air, and still manage to hold him off at arm's length with my left. As I did this, I thought I heard distantly, a faint cheer, and fancied I saw the boat, which had been hanging like a black speck on the water, turn and shoot towards us. But at this crisis, when I would have given everything to be sure, the boy made a fresh and more frantic effort to clutch at me, which succeeded. I felt his arms, in their death grip, twine around my throat, and I sank like lead, hope and thought and memory leaving me together.

My next recollection—and it is but a faint one—is of being lifted over the side of the vessel, and seeing a crowd of awestruck faces look at me as I was borne past. It was but for a moment, when I again became insensible. But among those faces was one which had haunted me for years; the great brown eyes, through their tears, beaming on me with infinite pity.

After that, for hours, all was blank.

The next thing I recall was hearing the surgeon of the steamer say, "He's coming round."

Then pangs, as of entering a new existence, racked every nerve of my body. But I was able, after awhile, to sit up and hear congratulations on my escape, and praises of what was called my heroism. Soon after, the mother herself came in, leaving her darling for a moment. The boy, it seems, had been playing abaft the wheel-house, when he had slipped and fallen overboard, no one knew exactly how.

"It was a near thing his missing the paddles," said the captain, "and he'd have been drowned anyhow, if you hadn't leaped after him at once. By Jove! gentlemen, it was the finest thing I ever saw."

The steamer, long before this, had reached the wharf, and most of the passengers had left. When I crawled on deck, hoping to see again that face, I found no one but the family of the rescued boy, and even they were leaving. In vain, that evening, for I was still too weak to go ashore, I looked over the list of passengers, and cross-questioned the stewardess, seeking to identify the countenance I had recognized.

"There had been a dozen young ladies about the age I talked of," she said, "and she couldn't now even tell their names."

And so again I lost my little strawberry girl. I say again, for nothing could persuade me that I had not seen her, and I was more than convinced, too that she had recognized me.

"There was a look on that face," I said to myself, "such as I would give worlds to be sure of, a look that a woman gives only.—But, pshaw! what a fool I am," I cried, breaking abruptly off.

Yet, for all that, cool-headed as men call me, the vision of that face, and that look, would come back till now I was thoroughly and hopelessly in love with what, if not my little strawberry girl, was a mere vision of the brain.

And mere vision of the brain, I came at last reluctantly enough to consider it. For I made inquiries, and in every direction, so that if any such person had been on board the steamer I should, I thought, have certainly heard of it.—My half-waking condition, I was now convinced had misled me. I had imagined I saw the face I had so often pictured to myself, but it had only been the countenance of one of the many sympathizing, tearful women, who beheld me carried, as it was supposed a corpse along the deck of the steamer.

Two years later, I was returning from a visit to Scotland. The railroad train was behind time, and the engineer was running at his highest speed to recover lost ground. The carriages jolted and bounced along along oscillating from side to side. We had just emerged from a tunnel, and were whirling round a turn between high rocks, when there was a crash as of two comets meeting, a thousand flashes of light in my brain, and then darkness and oblivion.

After a long blank, it seemed as if I were being dragged from among splintered timber. I opened my eyes, wildly and saw faces looking on me. The most agonising pains following, I seemed to be on fire in nerve, and I lost consciousness again.

After that I remember nothing except a succession of the wildest dreams, and of immitigable sufferings. I was Tantalus in water to my chin dying of thirst, yet unable to drink. I was Prometheus, chained to rock, while familiars came, with red hot pincers, and tore out bits of flesh. Then the visions changed. Pitying, womanly faces hovered about me. Soft, womanly fingers bathed my brow. Oh! after such sights of torture, what bliss merely to feel the ice-cold water moistening my burning lips. Among these faces, sometimes came the one which had haunted me for years. And once, looking furtively around, it stooped suddenly and kissed me, a tear falling on my cheek.—Then the dreams of horror came back, and the wheel of fire, on which I was broken limb, by limb.

At last, one day, I woke perfectly sane. In a dim way I was conscious of being in a large and elegant apartment, cool and airy even on that sultry summer noon. I was to weak to rise. One of my arms was bandaged. My chest felt as if crushed in. Feebly turning my head, though not without pain, I saw, reading by the window, a graceful figure. The slight noise I made instantly attracted the reader's attention; she glanced hastily around, started up, and glided from the room. But not before I had recognised the face which had haunted me for years; the face which had looked out of the embers of the fire, which I had seen on board the steamer, and which had gazed on me with such ineffable pity in my dreams.

Immediately after an elderly matron entered, whose dress and manner were those of a lady rather than of a mere nurse. She came directly to the bed, lifting her finger on seeing I was about to speak.

"My niece told me you had wakened up," she said in a soft motherly voice. "The doctor said, last night, the crisis was passed. There not a word yet; your life depends on silence.—But I will tell you, or else, I fear, you won't go to sleep again, that you are with friends. I am Mrs. Burgoyne; this is my house, and you were providentially here from the scene of the accident close by. Your injuries are all doing well; with rest and perfect quiet, you are sure to recover. And now try to sleep. But first, drink this."

She gave me a cooling draught, as she spoke, arranged the pillows and bedclothes deftly, drew the window curtains so as to shut out the glare, and took the seat which had just been vacated. I saw that it was useless for me to attempt engaging her in conversation; and, in truth, my brain was already dizzy with the slight mental effort I had made. I was not sorry, therefore, to close my eyes and obey her instructions.

From that hour I mended rapidly. But I never saw the face I most wished to see. Once or twice, early in the morning I fancied I heard a strange voice whispering, out of sight, at the head of my bed; but I could never catch sight of the speaker. At last came the day when I was allowed to rise; and from that time I counted the hours till I had the freedom of the parlor. The first glance about the room, as I entered, showed me what I had waited for so long. There, blushing and embarrassed, but more lovely than ever, was she who had crossed my path so romantically twice before.

"My niece, Miss Grayson," said Mrs. Burgoyne, little fancying all the introduction meant to me.

How beautiful she was! Just nineteen, with great, brown eyes, a broad Greek brow, and that willowy figure which the Arabs, in their Oriental extravagance, compare to a palm tree. When her first shyness wore off I found she had rare gifts of mind, which had been cultivated to a very high degree. She was full of archness as of old. Her low, sweet laugh was like the gurgle of cool waters—the waters of Damascus. But I am telling a story, not writing foolish rhapsody.

If ever there was a happy summer it was that. When I was well enough we rode, or drove, or walked together; at other times we read, or talked, or she played Bethoven, or sang ballads for me. In October I went to my own country house, but it was only to prepare it for her reception, and on Christmas Eve I took her to it, with the Christmas moon sparkling bright on the snow-clad hills around, and my soul full of "peace and good-will to men."

"And so you wanted to find me and educate me for your wife," she said to me, archly, the other day. "Well I am educated, after a fashion, you see; and without any trouble to your High Mightiness. You thought I was poor, too, what a pity I am rich! Did I also think of you? How could a little girl forget such handsome horses or their master? Every body knew who you were, and talked of you. I compared you to the Prince in the fairy tale, and myself, of course, to foolish Cinderella. In town I often wondered why I never met you. But, before the next winter, aunt moved away from London; and I never saw you again till I saw you on the steamer. When you leaped overboard, in that brave way, I cried for admiration. Yes! if you will make me confess I loved you from that hour. You were my hero. But, as for kissing you, Sir Impudence, when you lay so ill, we thought you dying, why you know that it's the craziest and funniest delusion in the world."

She would deny that kiss, I believe, even at the stake. But for all this, the truest, sunniest, darlingest wife that ever was, is my Little Straw-berry Girl.

A STINGY HUSBAND.

Our train rolled out from the Union Depot in the early part of the night, bound for the North. The weather was just sufficiently cool to make one feel agreeable in good company. The whistle sounded for the station north of the Hoosier Capital. As usual, everybody "poked" their heads out to see something, if it was there. "Just married," spoke an old lady, as she drew in her head, after satisfying woman's curiosity, and who could see further into a mill stone than any one else of our party.

Every one was satisfied that the old lady was correct, as they witnessed the "hugs and kisses" on the give and take principle, and saw the surrounding relatives climbing into their country wagons, whilst a young couple entered the cars. The conductor passed them to a seat, and the cars rolled swiftly on. The first parting had been gone through with, and the dear old home and the loved ones there could be seen only by the eyes of memory.

The fair young bride had forsaken home, parents and all that was dear to her youthful heart, for the one she believed was dearer than all the world beside. The brightest pictures of joy and life dazzled her eyes to the sorrow and grief of the future.

An hour passed, and passengers were getting drowsy. Many began to change positions, and fold themselves up, cat fashion, on the seats. The conductor of the sleeping car soon came along, and passing from one seat to the other, he notified them of a chance for a good rest in the rear car. At length he came to the groom and bride. "Double berth in sleeping car, you can have it if you wish—nice bed and falling curtains," said the conductor. The bride blushed, dropped her eyes a moment, and then looked into the face of her chosen. Her eyes rested upon him, and spoke more love than one can write in two weeks. Her swelling bosom told of the heart that was struggling to leap from its prison house, to embrace the object of its affection. "What does it cost in sleeping cars?" asked the husband. "Only one dollar and a half," answered the conductor. The husband commenced calculating He was in deep study. The wife felt as any other woman would feel under the circumstances, and looked a thousand times better and sweeter than a basket full of ripe cherries. But oh! the cuss that she had chosen for life. Would that some humane being had served him as a refuse pup, and drowned him when he was first born, for he had not sense enough to enjoy life, and was so mean and so stingy that he would not give one dollar and a half of "rag currency" to sleep with his beautiful and loving wife the night they were married.

HOW TO DO UP SHIRT BOSOMS.—We have often heard ladies express a desire to know by what process the fine gloss observable on new linens, shirt bosoms, &c., is produced, and in order to gratify them, we submit the following receipt for making Gum Arabic Starch: Take two oz. fine white Gum Arabic powder, but it into a pitcher, and pour on it a pint or more of boiling water—according to the degree of strength you desire—and then, having covered it, let it set all night. In the morning pour carefully from the dregs, into a clean bottle, cork it and keep it for use. A tablespoonful of gum water stirred into a pint of starch made in the usual manner, will give to either white or printed lawns a look of newness, when nothing else can restore them after washing. Much diluted, it is also good for thin musain and bobinet.

A man's imagination seldom enters into the sphere of the affections but a woman's is there and always busy. It has a thousand beautifying processes to accomplish, and so far, perhaps, its office is salutary. But it has also a thousand painful possibilities to suggest, and so far its work is purely evil. It torments the heart in which it is born, but this is not the worst; without severe control it will torment the objects of that heart's affections.

Prentice says Congress has "negro on the brain," but precious little brain on the negro.

TO SUBSCRIBERS IN ARREARS.

Those persons who have not paid their subscription to THE GAZETTE for the year commencing 1 aug., '65, and for the present year commencing aug., '66, can get a receipt for both years by paying $4.50 at or before next November Court. It will be noticed that the above yellow slip of paper upon which the subscriber's name is printed, is dated and indicates the time to which his paper is paid with the present firm. We hope that all delinquents will at once remit the amount due us. MEYERS & MENGEL.

THE LABOR OF WRITING.—A rapid long-hand penman can write thirty words in a minute. To do this he must draw his pen through the space of one rod—sixteen and a half feet. In forty minutes his pen travels a furlong, and in five and one-third hours one mile. We make, on an average, sixteen curves or turns of the pen in writing each word. Writing thirty words a minute, we must make four hundred and eighty—eight to each second; in an hour, twenty-eight thousand eight hundred; in a day of only five hours, one hundred and forty-four thousand; in a year of three hundred days, forty-three million two hundred thousand. The man who made one million strokes with a pen a month was not at all remarkable. Many men make four millions. Here we have in the aggregate a mark three hundred miles long, to be traced on paper by each writer in a year. In making each letter of the ordinary alphabet, we must take from three to seven strokes of the pen, on an average three and a half to four. [In Phonography, an expert can write 170 to 200 words in a minute! Apply your multiplication to this, and see where your long-hand writer stands.]

VALUE OF ACCURACY.—It is the result of every day's experience, that steady attention to matters of detail lies at the root of all human progress, and that diligence, above all, is the mother of good luck. Accuracy also is of much importance, and an invariable mark of good training in a man—accuracy in observation, accuracy in speech, accuracy in the transaction of affairs. What is done in business must be well done; for it is better to accomplish perfectly a small amount of work than to half do ten times as much. A wise man used to say, "Stay a little, that we may make an end the sooner. Too little attention, however, is paid to this highly important quality of accuracy. As a man eminent in practical science lately observed, "It is astonishing how few people I have met in the course of my experience who can define a fact accurately." Yet, in business affairs, it is the manner in which even small matters are transacted that often decide men for or against you. With virtue, capacity, and good conduct in other respects, the person who is habitually inaccurate cannot be trusted; his work has to be gone over again; and he thus causes endless annoyance, vexation and trouble.

SELF-DEPENDENCE.—Many an unwise parent works hard and lives sparingly all his life for the purpose of leaving enough to give his children a start in the world, as it is called. Setting a young man afloat with the money left him by his relatives is like tying a bladder under the arms of one who cannot swim; ten chances to one he will lose his bladders and go to the bottom. Teach him to swim, and he will not need the bladders. Give your child a sound education. See to it that his morals are pure, his mind cultivated, and his whole nature made subservient to the laws which govern man, and you have given what will be of more value than the wealth of the Indies. You have given him a start which no misfortune can deprive him of. The earlier you teach him to depend on his own resources and the blessings of God, the better.—California Teacher.

THE RADICAL REBELLION IN MARYLAND.

The Police Commissioners for the city of Baltimore are appointed by the Legislature of Maryland, and are removable by the same authority, and when the Legislature is not in session, the Governor may remove them and appoint others in their stead. It appears that the present board of Police Commissioners, in exercising the functions of their office, have been guilty of deliberate and wilful malfeasance, having in the appointment of judges of election in the city of Baltimore (which is one of their duties) exhibited the meanest partizanship, and selected the vilest and basest creatures to sit in judgment upon the rights of the freemen of Baltimore. The evidence in regard to the character of these judges of election, produced before Gov. Swann, shows them to be thieves and murderers and villains of lowest degree, men unfit to be tolerated in any civilized community, much less to be made judges of the most sacred privileges inherent in American citizens. Well, because Gov. Swann has taken steps to inquire into the character of these men, with a view to remove the Police Commissioners for appointing such scoundrels to office, John W. Forney, the Baltimore American, and the Radical leaders generally, have organized an armed conspiracy to resist the Governor, should he see fit to oust the Police Commissioners. These Radical rebels are determined to sustain the men who appoint murderers and keepers of houses of ill-fame as judges of elections, even if blood must be shed to do it. Of course, Forney and the editors of the American, and such cowardly miscreants, don't mean to shed any of their precious blood, but they are striving to work up the passions of their blinded and reckless followers so as to retain by force their ill-gotten power in the city of Baltimore. What do Pennsylvania "Republicans," who still have some sense of decency left, think of such outrageous and revolutionary proceedings? Do they endorse Forney and the rest of the Radical Rebels? Let them read the following, which is a part of the testimony taken before Gov. Swann, in regard to the judges of election appointed by the Police Commissioners, and then let them say whether they are willing that a war shall be inaugurated to sustain such assassins, murderers and whore-mongers:

William J. Smith, sworn—Reside at No. 162 South Ann street; live in the Second ward; know all the judges of the last election in that ward; know Wm. Divers, judge of the fourth precinct; he lives on the Causeway with his mother, who keeps a bawdy house; know Wm. Lynch, another judge; he was tried for killing a man; know Jos. Bush, another; he left the city during the war for stripping soldiers; I mean he would take their uniforms off, dress them in citizens' clothes, and put them in as substitutes; know Geo. W. Brady judge of the second precinct Third Ward; I arrested him some years ago for the murder of Hugh Morgan at Lower Canton; Wm. Richardson was appointed in the Third Ward; he was tried for killing a man in the Criminal Court, and recently killed Benj. F. Jones, and has since left the city; know James Manly, special officer; he was in the penitentiary for shooting Konig; he lives on the Causeway; his wife keeps a bawdy house; Wm. Snyder, another, was tried for garroting a man on Bond street; Lemuel Gray, another, was arrested for the murder of his wife in Anne Arundel county, some years ago; Tom Hyer, another, was arrested for stripping soldiers, and put in General Woolley's jail; know Gus. May, he can be classed among the same stamp; F. Diver lives with a woman who keeps a bawdy house; the judges in the Second Ward were all Radicals; don't know about the clerks; know several judges in the First Ward who are Radicals; don't know of any Conservative judge of election.

THE FENIAN PRISONERS.

Two of the Fenian prisoners in Canada have been tried, convicted, and sentenced to suffer death. Their names are R. B. Lynch and John McMahon—the former a Colonel of the Fenian forces, and the latter a priest, who accompanied the Fenians in the capacity of Chaplain. We hope that these unfortunate men will not be made to suffer the penalty adjudged to them. Their offense is purely a political one, and Great Britain can afford to be magnanimous to those who committed it. All America will plead for the release of the ill-starred Fenians, and especially the Democracy of the country will rise up as one man to demand that not one hair of their heads shall be hurt. The Irish people have been true and tried friends of this Republic. Shall they now be friendless in their deep affliction? No, the Government of the United States owes them its best and strongest word in behalf of mercy. That word will be spoken and in a tone that cannot be mistaken. Let it not be delayed a single day.

—Since writing the above, we have read with great gratification the proceedings of the Democracy of New York city, assembled in Tammany Hall, for the purpose of taking action upon the cases of Lynch and McMahon. The resolutions passed by this assemblage demand that the Fenian prisoners be delivered to the United States authorities, and warn the British government that if their blood be shed it shall not flow unavenged. We have, also, the satisfaction of laying before our readers the following letter from Secretary Seward to Sir Frederick Bruce, the British Minister at Washington, which gives ample assurance that the United States government will not permit the execution of Lynch and McMahon.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
WASHINGTON, October 26, 1866.

SIR: It is understood that James Lynch and John McMahon have been recently convicted in a Colonial Court of Canada, and sentenced to death upon a charge that, being citizens of the United States, they were actors in the assault made in the month of June last, at Fort Erie, in that colony.

It can hardly be necessary to direct your attention to the fact that the government of the United States is required by the highest considerations of national dignity, duty, and honor, to inquire into the legality, justice, and regularity of the judicial proceedings which have thus taken place, and that after making such a careful scrutiny, we shall expect to make known to her Majesty's government such opinions as the President, upon due consideration, shall adopt. With this view, the U. S. Consul at Toronto is this day instructed to procure, for the information of this Department, a copy of the record of the trial and conviction of Lynch and McMahon, and also of all further trials and convictions of a similar character which shall take place in Canada. While no unnecessary delay in the examination of the cases which are thus expected to come before this government is intended, it may nevertheless happen hereafter that delays will unavoidably result from past incidents or from future events which cannot now be foreseen.

I have now the honor to request you to take such proceedings as you may think proper, to the end that such applications of the Consul shall be granted promptly. The President directs me to assure you of his confident hope that her Majesty's government will not only cheerfully comply with the request I have thus made, but that they will think it proper also to examine the judicial proceedings aforesaid with a careful regard to the rights of the United States, and to the maintenance of good relations between the two countries. Such relations are always difficult and delicate in States that are adjacent to each other without being separated by impassable borders. For this reason it would be very gratifying to the President if you should be able to give me an assurance that the execution of the sentences pronounced upon the convicted persons will be suspended, if occasion for delay shall arise in the manner before mentioned to make it desirable.

Finally, I deem it proper to say that the offenses involved in these trials are in their nature eminently political. It is the opinion of this government that sound policy coincides with the best impulses of a benevolent nature in recommending tenderness, amnesty and forgiveness in such cases.

This suggestion is made with freedom and earnestness, because the same opinions were proposed to us, in our recent civil war, by all the governments and publicists of Europe, and by none of them with greater frankness and kindness than by the government and statesmen of Great Britain.

I am very sure that you will find that these recommendations of a policy of clemency and forgiveness in the case of the parties concerned, are in entire harmony with all the suggestions and representations which this government has made to her Majesty's government in regard to the aggressions which have been made on the Canadian frontier; and that they are also in harmony with the proceedings which this government has thought it just, wise, and prudent to pursue in regard to the violation of its own neutrality which was involved in those aggressions.

I have the honor to be, with the highest consideration, sir, your obedient servant, W. H. SEWARD.

To the Hon. Sir Frederick Bruce.

THE Democrats polled 290,000 votes at the recent election, and get under the present infamous apportionment, 6 members of Congress. The Radicals polled 306,000 votes, and get 18 members. In other words, it takes 48,334 Democratic votes to elect a member of Congress, whilst it takes but 17,000 Radical votes to do the same thing. Is there any fairness, or honesty, in such an apportionment?

GEN. W. B. FRANKLIN has been brevetted Major-General in the regular service.

IT appears that a pretty general effort is being made to ferret out the frauds perpetrated by the Radicals at the recent election in this State. Our exchanges teem with developments of the most outrageous violations of the purity of the ballot-box. If the tricks and diablerie by which the Radicals elected Geary are not exposed, and those engaged in them punished, we shall never have another fair election in Pennsylvania until the rule of such scoundrels ends in the blood of revolution. We hope, therefore, that a full investigation will be made of the Radical frauds, and that the facts connected with them will be laid before the public. Of course there is no use in contesting the election of Governor, or members of Congress, for even if 50,000 fraudulent votes were proved to have been counted for Geary, the Legislature would not give the seat to Clymer, and if all the thousands of colonized voters and minors who elected Covode, Cake, Finney and other Radicals to Congress, were compelled to testify to the illegality of their votes, the Democrats who were honestly elected to Congress would still be kept out of the places to which they were fairly chosen by the people. Nevertheless, let a full exposition of the Radical frauds be made and placed before the public eye. Let the Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, through the several County Committees, institute an investigation which will bring to light the scoundrelism of our enemies, in every nook and corner of the State. At least this good would result from such a course—it would expose the arts and tricks by which we are beaten, and would teach the Democrats how to meet them in the future. Let us, we repeat, have an investigation.

THE DATE OF THE NEGRO PERIOD.

It will be remembered how vehemently John Cessna and other sharp orators of the Radical Disunion party, protested that the Civil Rights Bill did not mean Negro Suffrage. They knew that their own party would construe it to mean that very thing, and yet, in order to blindfold their party, they stood up and lied them into its endorsement. Read the following which we copy from an Ohio paper and then tell us that the Radicals don't claim the right of suffrage for the blacks under the Civil Rights Bill:

The date of the negro-equality period, in the Northern States, may be fixed at October 9, 1866. In Ohio the negroes were allowed to vote, without distinction of color, at all polls—outside of a few counties—where Radical Judges officiated. It was the same in Indiana. One correspondent writes us:

"XENIA, Oct. 9, 1866.
"Every negro voted to day that offered his ballot."

"CEDARVILLE, GREENE Co., O.
"Forty-five full blown blacks voted at this precinct to-day. The Judges took their votes, declaring that under the Civil Rights Bill they were as well entitled to vote as the whites."

"RICHMOND, IND., Oct. 9, 1866.
"The Judges here allowed full blooded negroes to vote, the same as whites, and justify themselves under the Civil Rights Bill."

THE Radical Rebels in Maryland have put themselves in open antagonism to the authority of the Governor. Jack Forney (the dead duck) Jack Cessna and several other jacks have been braying around Baltimore, for the purpose of stirring up sedition and rebellion, but at last accounts the back-bone of the Radical Rebels was getting rather weak. They are a set of miserable cowards and wouldn't fight a flea.

THE Radical majority on the vote for members of Congress, in this State, is only 11,000. This was the real test in the late election, as the question was between the President and Congress. The result shows a Radical loss of 11,000, and a corresponding gain for the President.

SENSIBLE FOR ONCE.—The Harrisburg Telegraph, one of the most senseless, lying journals in the State, has hit upon a little bit of common sense and truth for once. Comparing the condition of the negroes in the South now, with what it was before the success of abolitionism, it says:

"In slavery the black man had protection accorded him. His life was valuable to his master. There was money in the flesh of his wife and children, and therefore they were not suffered to be brutalized unto death. But who now protects the black man, his wife, or his children? They have no protectors. There is no money any longer in their flesh and bones. They cannot be bought or sold, and therefore they are not as valuable as dogs."

This is the first paragraph that approximated to truth that we have seen in that paper for months. If the Telegraph don't lose some of its admirers in this neighborhood on account of it, it will be because it will make up for being truthful once by lying ten times harder than ever.—Bellefonte Watchman.

We have a report from Baltimare that the grand jury of that city have indicted Forney for his malicious attempts to incite riots in the "Monumental City." It is sincerely to be hoped that this report is true, and that he will be tried, convicted and sent to State Prison for the term of his natural life. Forney's offence is rank. He deliberately, and with malice afore thought, tried to incite the negroes and ruffians of Baltimore to rise against the constitutional authorities, and drench the city in blood. There are many better and purer-minded men in State Prison than Forney. By all means let him be "jugged."—N. Y. World.

"PILGRIM'S PROGRESS."

MR. MEYERS:—I do not know whether you will print any thing written by a "Republican," but I suppose you will not be so exclusive as to all "Republicans," for you must remember that some of us voted for you at the late election. At any rate I venture to send you a few words written in defence of Old Southampton. Not that Southampton needs any defence, for she is proof against attack upon the virtue and intelligence of her citizens. As for her politics, I have nothing to say; her people think for themselves, and I will not quarrel with them even for doing that. But I was grieved, nay, I felt outraged, at several articles in the Bedford Inquirer, of last week, imputing ignorance to our people, and exhibiting a spirit of spitefulness disgraceful to any public journal in this enlightened age. One of these articles is a communication over the signature of "Pilgrim," which undertakes to caricature the habits, the education and the religion of the folks in this region. This wandering philosopher, this rambling epitome of all that is great and learned and pious and noble, saw "no thriving villages—no neat cottages"—"no temple of prayer," &c. Why, as for "thriving villages," there are just about as many of them in Southampton, as there are in Monroe, or East Providence, or Hopewell, each of which is, no doubt, considered by "Pilgrim," a perfect Paradise of "Republican" intelligence and piety; as for "cottages," we compare favorably, at least, with "Texas," the western end of Bedford borough, where I am told the body of the "Republican" vote of that borough is located; and as for "temples of prayer" (in our simplicity we call them churches, but, then, we haven't gone to free school yet) I need only call the attention of those who have visited our township to this uncalled-for libel, to ensure its refutation. The beauty of our ladies, says this virtuous "Pilgrim," was of a style that had no charms for him. No, I presume not. Their style wasn't copied from that of some of his nocturnal associates in the alleys of his own town. Virtuous beauty could have no charms for a fellow like him. "The walking-machines called men, were of every hue," says "Pilgrim." Not quite, gentle sir. None of them are black, or you would not have been quite so severe upon them, for you wouldn't, of course, abuse those with whom you associate. But, Mr. Pilgrim, you talk about education, decaying school-houses, &c. Pray, where did you get your education? What seminary of learning is honored with your great name upon its roll of students? "Upon what food has this our Cæsar fed that he has grown so great?" If you have been to free school, we don't want the system in Southampton. Why, you don't know the simplest rudiments of English Grammar, witness the following sentence: "Scenes of grandeur, visions of beauty rose before him, but when he awoke it was gone." Yes, "it was gone," that is, "the scenes of grandeur was gone," "the visions of beauty was gone!" Now, aren't you ashamed of yourself! Any of those boys whom you saw wearing "nature's own moccasins, blue and bloodless," could teach you to write better English than that. Next time you send a communication to the Inquirer, tell the editors to correct your mistakes, that is, if they can do it, for I apprehend they are as great asses as yourself. I'll wager a pound of snake-root that I can select a dozen men from both political parties in this township, who can write a better hand, compose an article with fewer grammatical errors, spell more correctly, do more difficult mathematical problems, than either you or the editors of the Inquirer. I will pit either of the Donahoes and Clay Lashley against the best of you. Now, I have done, except this, if you want any "Republican" votes hereafter in Southampton tp., you must treat us with at least common decency. HOMESPUN.

Cheneysville, Oct. 30, 1866.

THE MEXICAN MUDDLE.

Gen. Sheridan Cuts the Gordian Knot.

President Juarez to be Protected.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26.—The following important letter appears this evening:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE GULF,
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 23.

GENERAL: I am satisfied that there is only one way in which the state of affairs on the Rio Grande can be settled, and that is by giving the heartiest support to the only government in Mexico recognized by our own, the only one which is really favorable to our own. You will, therefore, warn all adherents of any party or a pretended government in Mexico, or in the State of Tamaulipas, that they will not be permitted to violate the neutrality laws between the Liberal government of Mexico and the United States, and also that they will not be permitted to remain on our territory, and receive the protection of our flag, in order to complete their machinations for the violation of our neutrality laws.

These instructions will be enforced against the adherents of the imperial buccaneer, representing the so-called Imperial Government of Mexico; and also against the Ortega, Santa Anna and other factions. President Juarez is the acknowledged head of the Liberal Government of Mexico.

I am, general, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

P. H. SHERIDAN,
Maj. Gen. comd'g.

To Bvt. Brig. Gen. E. T. Sedgwick, Brownsville, Texas.

MANIFESTO FROM GEN. ORTEGA.

General Ortega, who claims to be the constitutional President of the Republic of Mexico, in place of Juarez, arrived at New Orleans on the 26th, from New York, and requested the papers to announce that he will leave in a few days for Brownsville, whence he will enter Mexico, with the object of re-establishing the constitutional government. When this is accomplished, he says he will send a minister to Washington. His staff, and a number of officers who have been awaiting him, will accompany him.

RADICAL RIOT AT HAGERSTOWN, MD.

One Policeman killed and another Dangerously Wounded.

The Murder Party of Maryland.

It becomes our duty as public journalists to give a clear and truthful statement of the bloody scenes enacted at the Radical meeting, held in this place, on Saturday last. That the gathering was a large one, no one that witnessed it will pretend to deny, but it was composed largely of women, children and negroes, from Western Maryland, bogus Virginia and Pennsylvania, so that it couldn't help being a "big affair."

The procession headed by the most patriotic of the party—office-holders and office-seekers as a general thing—marched and counter-marched through the principal streets of the town, as is usual on such occasions, with banners and flags floating in the breeze. The grand parade over, there was a dismissal for dinner, after which, the radical fighting material began to develop itself. The first "set-to" occurred in the bar-room of Stanhope's Hhtel, between two men—both Radicals. One of these men held a flag, which he waved for effect, and, imagining that one of the bystanders had offered the emblem insult, proceeded deliberately to knock him down. The row commenced, when three of the Police Officers, Charles Gall, Robert Sands and Charles Ridenour, the two first returned Union soldiers, appeared promptly, as was their duty, and attempted to preserve the peace and quiet of the town. On declaring that the peace should be preserved, and getting the crowd out of Mr. Stanhope's Hotel, with little or no disturbance, they were surrounded on the out-side of the house by a mob, when some one cried out they were no policemen, but d—m rebels; the mob then made violent threats, and exhibited the most menacing attitude. The policemen, who were three brave men, held their ground resolutely as long as it was possible for them to do so, striving to preserve the peace, and Gall telling them they might shout for whom they pleased, but they must fight. The policemen finding that they were being overpowered, that their efforts to preserve order would prove of no avail, retreated slowly down Jonathan Street, stones being hurled at them, and the crowd rushing upon them, when they turned and fired, which checked the mob for a short time, and afforded the policemen time to take refuge in the house of James Kuhn—a veteran soldier who served his country faithfully, when the mob became doubly infuriated at the sight of a splendid Johnson pole which had been erected by the "boys in blue" in front of this house, and on the top of which floated a beautiful American flag—the "stars and stripes." When the mob approached, the cry was raised to cut down the pole, when firing on the mob from the windows of the house commenced.

The street was literally blocked with the mob, extending from the Court House to the scene of the fighting. Conspicuous amongst the mob was a prominent individual of this place, a firebrand, again urging men the third time to deeds of violence, the horrors of which we sicken to record. Oh, that the passions of men could not be so readily inflamed at the bidding of a man who thirsts for office, and who, to accomplish his desires sets the laws at defiance, and brings upon us scenes that we shudder now to sketch. The fight was now kept up, and several times the mob backed, when officer Gall, pointing a carbine out of the window and exposing his head, a shot pierced his brain, and he fell to the pavement beneath, a lifeless corpse. The mob then rushed forward, the two remaining policemen, with a few friends who had rushed to their assistance, making their escape at the back door. In attempting his escape, however, Robert Sands, one of the policemen, was overtaken, and while held fast by several men, received a dangerous stab in the right breast, penetrating the lung. At first it was feared that Sands was injured fatally, but hopes are entertained that he will now recover. The pole was cut down, and falling upon the roof of the house smashed it in, after which the house was gutted and literally torn to pieces.—This closing performance, we suppose, was done for the reason that both Kuhn and Rife, who kept a saloon in the house, had been Union soldiers, but chose to differ with the Radicals, and were the friends of the President and the Governor. Had they not the right to raise the National emblem, the "Stars and Stripes," under which they fought so bravely, over their building? The cutting down of the pole with the flag which the Radicals claim to have so much respect for, and which was raised by Union soldiers, is a lasting disgrace—a foul blot upon the names of those who committed it. What! cut down the American flag—that glorious emblem of liberty, and that too, over the building of men who braved the dangers of the battle-field to uphold and defend it, and who loved to sing—

"And the star-spangled banner,
Oh long may it wave
O'er the land of the free,
And the home of the brave!"

Did not Ben Butler hang a man in New Orleans for cutting down the American flag, and have such proceedings become now less odious? Let us reflect, and perhaps we will conclude that times have changed sadly since it was considered a crime to cut down the American flag. What was treason then, seems to be "loyalty" now. Times are sadly out of joint, and we live to learn.—Hagerstown Mail.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING IN THE 19TH WARD.—A meeting of Democratic citizens of the Nineteenth Ward was held last evening, at the corner of Norris street and Frankford road, for the purpose of investigating into the alleged frauds said to have been committed at the late election. Mr. F. Geisler was appointed chairman. The committee appointed at a previous meeting to investigate into the cases of alleged illegal voting, reported, through their chairman, that there had been about sixty persons who had been guilty of the offense. Many of these have already been held by Alderman Kerr to answer for the offense in the sum of $1000. The meeting then adjourned until next Tuesday evening.—Philadel. Inquirer, (Rep.)

THEY'RE DONE BLARNEYING THE IRISH.—Now, that the election is over and the Fenians generally supported the Democratic ticket, the Republicans have stopped blarneying the Irish—they have taken to abusing them, instead. One Abolition paper thinks the naturalization laws ought to be changed, so as to make the Irishman stay here a longer period before he can vote. Exactly so. This is the old venom. The Irishman is a very good sort of a fellow so long as they think there is some prospect of soft-soaping him into voting the the Abolition, negro-equality ticket; but the moment they discover that Pat is too old a bird to be caught with such chaff, they throw off the sheep's clothing and the ears of the old Know-Nothing wolf project.—Easton Argus.

MARYLAND.

Proclamation of Governor Swann.

The Investigation of the Charges against the Baltimore Police Commissioners Commenced before the Governor.

BALTIMORE, October 22.—The following proclamation has to-night been issued by Governor Swann:

STATE OF MARYLAND,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

WHEREAS, It has come to the knowledge of the Executive, that military and other combinations are now forming in the City of Baltimore, for the purpose of obstructing and resisting the execution of the laws of this State; and

WHEREAS, There is reason to believe that similar combinations are attempted to be organized in other States with the intention of invading the soil of the State of Maryland, to deprive her citizens of their just rights under the laws, and to control the people of the State by violence and intimidation;

Now therefore I, Thomas Swann, Governor of the State of Maryland, do, by this proclamation, solemnly warn the leaders of such illegal and revolutionary combinations against the peace and dignity of the State, that in the event of riot and bloodshed growing out of these revolutionary proceedings they will be held to the strictest accountability, and the power of the State will be exhausted to bring them to prompt and merited punishment.

Given under my hand, and the great seal of the State of Maryland, at the City of Annapolis, this 22d of October, A. D. 1866.

(Signed) THOMAS SWANN.

By the Governor:

JOHN M. CARTER, Sec'y of State.

ANNAPOLIS, Oct. 26.—The investigation of the charges against the Police Commissioners commenced to-day at 11 o'clock. A large number of witnesses were present. The counsel of the Commissioners appeared and announced that they came to participate in the cross-examination, but did not withdraw their plea against the jurisdiction of the Governor to pass final judgment. Mr. Schley, for the petitioners, objected to the Commissioners' counsel participating in the investigation unless they withdrew their plea against the jurisdiction of the Governor. The counsel are now arguing that point.

LATER.—The Governor has decided to permit the counsel of the Commissioners to examine the witnesses, and said he claimed jurisdiction to try the case and pass judgment, and that he was responsible to no tribunal but the Legislature, and that he would proceed with the case without technicalities, and intended to reach a decision not later than Wednesday. He also announced that if in the course of the investigation the innocence or guilt of the Commissioners should appear, he would act instantly, even if in the midst of proceedings.

—Since July the cholera has found 1406 victims in Cincinnati.

—The famine in India is approaching Calcutta, and the deaths are too numerous to be reported.

—Butler says he doesn't think Davis was the worst man in the confederacy. No, the Doctor was there himself several times.

—Prentice says that the man who stamps upon Northern radicalism and rebel radicalism is a man of the right stamp.

—The Louisville Journal remarks that H. J. Raymond soon got as sick of Conservatism as a mud-fish of pure water.

—A correspondent of the Washington Republican inquires if Brownlow and Hunnicut belong to the "Infernal Rev. Department."

—At the National Convention of Spiritualists in Providence, the Christian religion, Sunday schools, animal food, and Andrew Johnson were resolved against.

—Brute Force Butler said in a recent speech that the rattlesnake was no brother of his. This announcement will go far towards removing the odium that attaches to that reptile.

—The N. Y. Commercial Advertiser (Rep.) says:—"The manner in which the case of Davis is treated by high officials is becoming a scandal to the nation."

—The Jackson (Miss.) Clarion says that the High Court of Mississippi has decided the Civil Rights bill to be unconstitutional. The decision which is to be delivered by Judge Handy, will be promulgated in a day or two.

—Chief Justice Chase was in consultation with the President on Thursday night last. The interview was had at so unseasonable an hour that opinion inclines to the belief that both parties wished to keep the fact of the meeting from the public.

—Lieut. Gen. Sherman arrived in Washington Friday night last, which gives credence to the rumor that he will succeed Stanton as the administrator of the War Department. Stanton had an interview with the President on Friday, after the receipt of Lt. Gen. Sherman's telegram announcing him to be en route. Sherman is the guest of General Grant.

—Secretary Stanton is about to turn his attention to the mustering out of the volunteer officers. He thinks that the service in which these officers are engaged can now be performed by officers of the regular army, since a large number of those recently appointed have reported for duty, and the number is daily increased by new appointments. A number of volunteer officers will be mustered out of service in a few days.

—This is a year of jubilee among the Methodists of this country. In the month of October, 1766, the first Methodist class, consisting of five persons, was organized in the city of New York, and from that small beginning it has flourished and progressed until it is now one of the great powers among religious denominations. Methodists, of course, feel jubilant, and all over the country are commemorating their one hundredth anniversary.

The Bedford Gazette believes that with proper work that county can give 600 majority next. See that you make good your work, as we believe you can, good friends of Bedford. We, over here of the little independent Republic of Fulton, calculate (now that we have fairly got our hand in) on making our majority, next year, some-where about the even 400.—Fulton Democrat.

IF justice were done, Hiester Clymer would be the next occupant of the Gubernatorial chair. He was honestly elected, and to allow him to be cheated out of his place is base cowardice on the part of the 290,000 white men who voted for him. If our State Central Committee will take the matter in hand, it can show up the frauds by which Geary is said to be elected, so plainly that those who supported him will be ashamed to claim that he is the choice of the people of Pennsylvania.—Bellefonte Watchman.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP.
This great medicine cured Dr. J. H. Schenck, the proprietor, of Pulmonary Consumption, when it had assumed its most formidable aspect, and when speedy death appeared to be inevitable. His physicians pronounced his case incurable, when he commenced the use of this simple but powerful remedy. His health was restored in a very short time, and no return of the disease has been apprehended, for all the symptoms quickly disappeared, and his present weight is more than two hundred pounds.

Since his recovery, he has devoted his attention exclusively to the cure of Consumption, and the diseases which are usually complicated with it, and the cures effected by his medicines have been very numerous and truly wonderful. Dr. Schenck makes professional visits to several of the larger cities weekly, where he has a large concourse of patients, and it is truly astonishing to see poor consumptives that have to be lifted out of their carriages, and in a few months healthy, robust persons. Dr. Schenck's PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC, and MANDRAKE PILLS, are generally all required in curing Consumption. Full directions accompany each, so that any one can take them without seeing Dr. Schenck, but when it is convenient it is best to see him. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer his fee is three dollars.

Please observe, when purchasing, that the two likenesses of the Doctor, one when in the last stage of consumption, and the other as he now is, in perfect health, are on the Government stamp.

Sold by all druggists and dealers; price $1 50 per bottle, or $7 50 the half dozen. All letters for advice should be addressed to Dr. Schenck's principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

ASTHMA CURED.—Wm. May, of 245 Spring st., New York, writes, Jan'y 1, 1856: I have been afflicted with asthma for upwards of ten years, receiving no benefit from medical men. I was advised by a friend to try one of Allcock's Porous Plasters I said, I had tried several kinds of plasters without any benefit, and supposed they were all alike. My friend gave me one of Allcock s, and urged me to use it I did so, and have now worn them steadily for nine months, and find my self better than I have been for many years.

A HUMBUG.—How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of patent medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right. It is over 19 years since I introduced my medicine, the VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me. But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash. I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally (see oath accompanying each bottle) and externally for Chronic Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c. Sold by all the druggists. Depot, 56 Cortlandt street, New York. oct19w7

TO CONSUMPTIVES.—The advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption—is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure CURE for CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all Throat and Lung Affections. The only object of the advertiser in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing.

PAY THE PRINTER!

We have just sent a number of bills to persons indebted to us for job work and advertising. This kind of work is always intended to be cash, but we have waited for months on some of it and for years on others. We must have these bills paid. Had we no debts of our own, we might give a hundred years' grace to those who owe us. But we must pay our debts, and, hence, we are compelled to collect from those who are indebted to us. The books of B. F. Meyers are also unsettled and must be closed up. We are driven to sending bills to all, irrespective of persons, and we hope that we will not be compelled to resort to any thing more stringent. But we must have our books squared up, and a word to the wise is sufficient.

"THE State of Southampton," is pretty well taken off by "Pilgrim" in another column. The late session of Court appointed a School Board for this benighted region. Give schools a few years head-way and Copperheadism will be among "the things that were." Ignorance and Copperheadism go hand in hand.—Bedford Inquirer.

The above is copied with perfect exactness, even to its punctuation, from the last issue of the Bedford Inquirer. The italics only are ours. Our object in copying it is to give the school boys of Southampton some exercises in false syntax, punctuation, &c. They must not be abashed by the profound learning of the eminent scholars of the Inquirer. We have no doubt that the boys will be greatly amazed at the "session of Court" appointing a School Board for "this benighted region." But they must not be afraid to say that "the Court, at its late session, appointed," &c., the Murrays and Browns of the Inquirer to the contrary notwithstanding; nor, that, judging from the above specimen of composition, the Court ought to appoint a School Board for "this benighted region," i. e., the region of the office of the Bedford Inquirer.

THE LADY'S FRIEND FOR NOVEMBER.—A beautiful steel engraving, "Feeding the Swans," and the usual superb double Fashion Plate, adorn the November number of this charming magazine. We note the usual number also of engravings devoted to the Fashions—to hats, caps, bonnets, dresses, fancy work, &c. The literature is as usual, excellent. The publishers announce four Novelets for the next year. They also announce, in addition to the Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machine, a Splendid List of new Premiums, including Plated Silver Tea Sets, Cake Baskets and Ice Pitchers, Silver and Gold Watches, Guns and Rifles, Clothes' Wringers, Melodeons and Organs, Appleton's Cyclopædia, &c. A beautiful Steel Engraving, 26 inches long by 20 inches wide, called "One of Life's Happy hours," will be sent gratis to every single ($2.50) subscriber, and to every person sending on a club. Specimen numbers of the magazine, containing the particulars of the premium and other offers, and the reduced prices to clubs, will be sent on the receipt of 15 cents. Price (with engraving) $2.50 a year; four copies (with one engraving) $6.00; eight copies (with extra magazine and engraving) $12.00. Address Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut Street, Philadelphia.

A SUPERIOR NUMBER.—The Phrenological Journal for November, contains sketches of the King and Queen of the Belgians, with their likenesses; Chief Men among the Mormons, with many excellent portraits and other illustrations; besides Lyceum Lecturers; J. Fossati, the celebrated French Phrenologist; Public Opinion; Women who talk; Family Dog; and a lot of other reading, suggestive and suitable to all. Price 20 cents, or $2 a year. Address Fowler and Wells, Broadway, New York.

SINGULAR COINCIDENCE.—Fulton county, at the recent election, gave exactly the same majority for the Democratic candidate for Senator as was given by this county—311. It is said that there is luck in odd numbers," and as the odd numbers didn't make the editor of this paper Senator, it must be lucky not to have been elected.

JUNIATA BASE BALL CLUB.—The Juniata Base Ball Club will hold its regular meeting on Monday evening next, Nov. 5. A full attendance of the members is requested, as important business will be laid before the Club.

STRANGE FREAK OF WILD BIRDS.—One day last week a small flock of partridges visited our town, one of them flew through the glass in the door of Dr. Lewis' Drug Store. It is presumed some of the family were sick, and one member was sent for medicine.

THE REGULATOR.—S. T. 1860. X., Liberty White Lead, Mustang Liniment, Hoofland's Bitters—don't mention them in the same day with Irvine's Regulator. They won't keep from freezieg as Irvine and Berkstresser will, if you call at the Regulator. A fine lot of cheap muslins have been added to their stock.

JUST received and opened at Lewis' Drug Store, another large Stock of Drugs, Toilet Articles, Stationery, Dye Stuffs, Spices, French Confections, &c., &c. A well selected stock of goods usually found in first-class Drug and Stationery Stores, constantly on hand.

"Herculean"—the article in the last Inquirer on "The Greatness of our Tribe." Harcules, what orthography! Ye Southampton, ye butchers of the English, and learn to spell!

WITH half an eye the difference may be seen between a coarse fabric and a fine one, and any one with a moiety of the sense of smell will find no difficulty in selecting Phalon's "Night Blooming Cereus," from all the perfumes in the market, as the most delicious and refreshing. Sold everywhere.

STORE ROBBED.—On Friday night last the grocery and confectionery store of Mr. Geo. Mardorff, next door to this office, was entered and robbed of some $25.00 in cash. The burglar entered at one of the windows of the store-room.

The Federal Assessor in East Providence don't work for bread-and-butter.—Bedford Inquirer.

That's so! He works for Radicalism because he is about to lose his "bread and butter."

THE Rev. J. R. Williams of Blairsville, will preach in the Lutheran Church on next Sabbath morning and evening at usual hours.

—An incipient conflict between the civil and military authorities arose at Charleston on last Saturday, from a landlady having detained the baggage of a captain of colored troops, for nonpayment of his hotel bill. A police sergeant, with his whole squad of ten men, were at one time under arrest by the military, but the matter ended by the defaulting captain and his supporters taking their places.

—Thursday evening, at 6 o'clock, a telegraphic dispatch was sent from N. York to London for the payment of a large sum of money. At 11½ o'clock Friday morning a message was received in New York endorsing the payment of the same.

REVIEW OF THE MARKETS.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.

FLOUR.—The market was more active to-day, and some holders ask a further advance. About 2,500 bbls sold to the home trade, including—

REDUCTION IN PRICE OF THE AMERICAN WATCHES, MADE AT WALTHAM, MASS.

In consequence of the recent great improvements in our manufacturing facilities, we have reduced our prices to as low a point as they can be placed WITH GOLD AT PAR, so that no one need hesitate to buy a watch now from the expectation that it will be cheaper at some future time. The test of ten years, and the manufacture and sale of

have given our productions the very highest rank among time keepers. Commencing with the determination to make only thoroughly excellent watches, our business has steadily increased as the public became acquainted with their value, until for months together, we have been unable to supply the demand. We have repeatedly enlarged our factory buildings until they now cover over three acres of ground, and give accommodation to more than eight hundred workmen. We are fully justified in saying that we now make more than sold in the United States. The different grades are distinguished by the following trade-marks on the plate:

1. "American Watch Co." Waltham, Mass.
2. "Appleton, Tracy & Co." Waltham, Mass.
3. "P. S. Bartlett," Waltham, Mass.
4. "Wm. Ellery."
5. Our LADIES' WATCH of first quality is named "Appleton, Tracy & Co." Waltham, Mass.
6. Our next quality of Ladies' Watch is named "P. S. Bartlett," Waltham, Mass. These watches are furnished in a great variety of sizes and styles of cases.

The AMERICAN WATCH Co. of Waltham, Mass., authorize us to state that without distinction of trade-marks or price, ALL the products of their Factory are FULLY WARRANTED to be the best time-keepers of their class ever made in this or any other country. Buyers should remember that unlike the guarantee of a foreign maker who can never be reached, this guarantee is good at all times against the Company or their agents, and that if after the most thorough trial, any watch should prove defective in any particular, it may be always exchanged for another. As the American Watches made at Waltham, are for sale by dealers generally throughout the country, we do not solicit orders for single Watches.

CAUTION.—The public are cautioned to buy only of respectable dealers. All persons selling counterfeits will be prosecuted.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE AT PRIVATE SALE.—One lot of ground in the centre of Bloody Run, fronting on Main street about sixty-five feet, one of the very best business locations in Bloody Run. Also, ten acres of wood land, adjacent to Bloody Run, lying on the Bedford Rail Road, containing first rate iron ore and having thereon a never-failing spring of water.

For particulars inquire at the store of Mrs. S. E. Mann, Bloody Run, or of Dr. Hickok, Bedford, Pa.
Dec 15, '65.

EXTENSIVE PRIVATE SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.—The undersigned will sell at private sale, several adjoining and contiguous tracts of land, lying on the headwaters of Dunning's Creek, in St. Clair township, Bedford county, containing 765 acres, now divided into four tracts, three tracts thereof containing respectively 157, 163, and 183 acres and the other, being the Saw Mill tract, containing 262 acres. These tracts will be sold as they are or subdivided to suit purchasers.

The saw mill tract contains a FIRST CLASS SAW MILL, with a never-failing head of water, and is in the midst of a TIMBER REGION unsurpassed for the quality of timber. One other of the tracts contains an enviable site for a TANYARD, with all the advantages of water, and is alongside of Chestnut Ridge, where the resources for Bark are inexhaustible.

100 acres of the land is bottom, mostly covered by large sugar trees. 300 acres are cleared and in a good state of cultivation, and the balance well timbered.

There are THREE DWELLING HOUSES, upon the premises and THREE BARNS, with other outbuildings. The Fruit is choice and in abundance upon some of these tracts. This property lies 12 miles North of Bedford, and in a country noted for its good roads, leading North, South, East and West, to Bedford, Hollidaysburg, Johnstown, and other points, on the Penn'a Central Railroad.

Farmers, Lumbermen, Tanners and Speculators should examine the premises, as these lands will be sold on fair and reasonable terms.

MISHLER'S BITTERS

WILL

CURE ALL DISEASES OF THE SKIN!

Diseases of the skin are numerous and, with but one or two exceptions, may all be traced to impurity of the blood. In many persons this impurity is born in the system; while others acquire it through improper treatment of scores of diseases. Under this head may be classed—

1st, Scrofula,—This disease is hereditary and is transmitted from generation to generation It is caused by a transgression of the laws of nature, both moral and physical; in other words, it is caused by vice. Acting as a latent poison, it reduces the vitality of the blood, and weakens the depurating organs, so that they fail to discharge or cast out the impurities that are continually generating in the system. A person physically pure acquires gonorhœa, or some other secret disease; he undergoes a course of mercury, the disease is dried up, and the patient pronounced well. Vain delusion. The complaint is not cured, its channel is only diverted. Instead of making its appearance outwardly, it acts on the internal organs, and scrofula, which is bequeathed from father to son, is the result. Many persons who are perfectly free from all immorality and vice are afflicted with scrofula. They are suffering for the sins of their fathers and laboring under the curse inscribed in scribed in the Book of Books. "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

To cure this dreadful complaint it is necessary that the blood should be thoroughly purified, all the organs of the body brought into a healthy state of action, and the system braced up and strengthened by invigorating tonics. Look at the articles used in compounding Mishler's Bitters; see the array of purifying and invigorating medicaments, and say whether there is an article in the whole list of medicines that equals it. We here emphatically assert, without fear of contradiction, that Mishler's Bitters will Cure all kinds of Scrofulous Diseases.

It purifies the blood, it strengthens the internal organs and aids them to perform their natural functions, it is a stimulant and a tonic and it will cure Scrofula.

2d, Running Sores and Ulcers.—Running sores and ulcers invariably indicate a scrofulous taint. They are caused by the efforts of nature to discharge the impurities of the blood. Many persons afflicted with running sores and ulcers succeeded in drying them up and think they are cured when the skin grows over the sore. They are, however, "but making bad worse," for the impurities that were discharged from the system through the medium of the sore now act internally and cause innumerable diseases and often death. The only true and sure cure for all running sores and ulcers is Mishler's Bitters, a continued and persevering use of which will most certainly effect a permanent cure.

3d, Salt Rheum.—Salt Rheum is a vague, indefinite, though, popular term given to almost all the non-febrile eruptions of the skin which afflict adults. It is generally an eruption of vesicles in small, distinct ulcers, accompanied with a smarting, tingling sensation, with a tendency to creep or spread over the adjoining surface. Mishler's bitters are a sure cure for this disease.

4th, Pimples and Blotches.—Pimples and Blotches on the skin are always a sure sign of impure blood. Although never dangerous, except in cases of carbuncles, they are very disagreeable.—Often we will see the most handsome features rendered hideous by great blotches and pimples, and instead of the pleasing look which should irradiate the human face we see nothing but disgusting corruption; for pimples and blotches are nothing but the corrupt accumulations of the system expelled through the medium of the skin. The use of Mishler's Bitters will force these corruptions to be discharged through the natural channels, and thus cures all kinds of pimples and blotches. Ladies who desire a fair complexion, free from pimples should bear this fact in mind.

CELEBRATED PATENT

DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (OR DOUBLE SPRING)

SKIRT.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the DUPLEX ELLIPTIC SKIRT will be experienced particularly in crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress, an invaluable quality in crinoline, not found in any single spring Skirt.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort, and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

They will not bend or break like the single spring, but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary Skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The Hoops are covered with double and twisted thread, and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered: preventing them from wearing out when dragging down stoops, stairs, &c.

The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fashion Magazines as the STANDARD SKIRT of the Fashionable World!

To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in crinoline, viz. superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, inquire for J. W. BRADLEY'S DUPLEX ELLIPTIC, or Double Spring Skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.

CAUTION.—To guard against imposition, be particular to notice that Skirts offered as "DUPLEX" have the red ink stamp, viz: "J W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Steel Springs," upon the waistband—☞none others are genuine. Also notice that every Hoop will admit a pin being passed through the centre, thus revealing the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other Skirt.

For sale in all stores where first class Skirts are sold throughout the United States and elsewhere. Manufactured by the sole owners of the patent,

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE.—LITERATURE, SCIENCE AND ART.—New Volume begins January, 1866.

The ECLECTIC MAGAZINE is, as its name indicates, a selection from other magazines and periodicals. These selections are carefully made each month, from the entire range of foreign Periodicals. In this respect it is entirely unlike other monthlies, and has no rival. The following are some of the works from which selections are made:—

London Quarterly,	Revue de deux Mondes,
British Quarterly,	London Society,
North British Review,	Bentley's Miscellany,
Pop. Science Review,	Cornhill Magazine,
Saturday Review,	Fraser's Magazine,
Leisure Hour,	Temple Bar,
Westminster Review,	Chambers' Journal,
Dub. University Magazine,	Edinburg Review,
Art Journal,	London National Rev.

We have also arranged to secure choice selections from the FRENCH, GERMAN AND OTHER CONTINENTAL PERIODICALS, translated especially for the ECLECTIC, and it is hoped this new feature will add greatly to the variety and value of the work.

EMBELLISHMENTS.

Each number is embellished with one or more Fine Steel Engravings—portraits of eminent men or illustrative of important events.

Volumes commence in January and July of each year; subscriptions can commence with any month.

TERMS: $5 per year; Single numbers, 50 cents. Five copies, $20.

ON SATURDAY, JANUARY 6, 1866, Messrs. TICKNOR & FIELDS began the publication of a weekly journal entitled

EVERY SATURDAY:

A JOURNAL OF CHOICE READING,

SELECTED FROM FOREIGN CURRENT LITERATURE.

Much of the best literature of the day is found in the English and Continental magazines and periodicals; and it is the design of the Publishers of this new journal to reproduce the choicest selections from these for American readers, in a form at once attractive and inexpensive. The publishers believe that such a journal, conducted upon the plan which they propose, will be not only entertaining and instructive in itself, but interesting and valuable as a reflex of foreign periodical literature of the better class.

EVERY SATURDAY is intended for town and country, for the fireside, the seaside, the railway and the steamboat. Its plan embraces Incidents of Travel and Adventure, Essays Critical and Descriptive, Serial Tales, Short Stories, Poems, Biographies, Literary Intelligence, etc., in connection with judicious selections from the admirable popular papers on science which are constantly appearing in foreign periodicals. The value of these papers arises from the fact that scientific subjects, however harsh and dry in themselves, are here treated in so graphic and picturesque a style as to charm the reader while instructing him.

It will be, in short, the aim of its publishers that EVERY SATURDAY shall commend itself by its freshness and variety to all classes of intelligent and cultivated readers.

EVERY SATURDAY will contain each week thirty-two large octavo pages, handsomely printed in double columns, with an engraved title.

TERMS.

Single Numbers, 10 cents.

Subscription price $5.00 per year, in advance.

MONTHLY PARTS will be issued, containing 128 pages each, handsomely bound in an attractive cover, price 50 cents. Subscription price, $5.00 per year, in advance.

CLUBBING ARRANGEMENT.—Subscribers to any of the other periodicals published by TICKNOR AND FIELDS will receive EVERY SATURDAY for $4.00 per year in advance.

1866! PROSPECTUS 1866!

OF

"THE AGE,"

The only Democratic Daily Journal in Philadelphia.—Great Improvements and Great Inducements.—Union, Restoration, and Constitutional Liberty.

The publishers of THE AGE respectfully call attention to the Daily and Weekly issues of their popular journal.

The Daily Age contains the latest intelligence from all parts of the world, with articles on Government, Politics, Trade, Finance, and all the current questions of the day; Local Intelligence, Market Reports, Prices Current, Stock Quotations, Marine and Commercial intelligence, Reports of Public Gatherings, Foreign and Domestic Correspondence, Legal Reports. Book Notices, Theatrical Criticisms, Reviews of Literature, Art and Music, Agricultural Matters; and discussions of whatever subjects are of general interest and importance.—Besides special telegrams, it has all the dispatches of the Associated Press from every part of the United States, and the news from all parts of Europe, brought by the steamers, is instantly telegraphed from the point the steamers first touch.

Terms of the Daily.—One copy, one year, $9.00; six months, $4 50; three months, $2.50; for any less period, at the rate of one dollar per month. Payment required invariably in advance. Postage on the Daily, thirty cents per quarter, or one dollar and twenty cents per annum, if prepaid.

The Weekly Age will be a complete compendium of the news of the week, and besides the leading editorials from the Daily, will contain a large amount of interesting matter prepared expressly for the weekly issue. It will be in all respects a first class family journal, particularly adapted to the Politician, the Farmer, the Merchant, the Mechanic, the Family Circle and the General Reader, having, in fact, every characteristic of a live newspaper. At an early day will be begun an intensely interesting serial, by one of the most popular and fascinating authors, and it is also the intention to publish, from week to week, in the course of the year, three or four of the best and latest novels.

Terms of the Weekly.—One copy, one year, $2; five copies, one year, $9; ten copies, one year, $17.50; twenty copies, one year, $33. To clubs, where the papers are sent to one address, the following reduction will be made: Ten copies, one year, $16.50; twenty copies, one year, $30, A copy will be furnished gratis for each of ten, or more, to one address, for one year. Payment required invariably in advance. Postage on the Weekly, five cts per quarter, or twenty cents per annum, if prepaid.

☞ The Weekly Age will be the great campaign paper of the Democratic Conservative Party of Pennsylvania, and will earnestly support the President in his patriotic efforts in behalf of Union, Restoration and Constitutional Liberty.

☞ The above terms will be rigidly adhered to. Specimen copies of the Daily and Weekly sent gratis, on application at this office. Please write the name and address plainly, and specify distinctly whether the Daily or Weekly is ordered.

THE NEW YORK NEWS,

The only Recognized Democratic Newspaper published in New York,

DAILY, SEMI-WEEKLY, AND WEEKLY.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE NEW YORK NEWS has battled against despotism for four years of blood and terror in assertion of the sanctity of the Constitution. A patriotism sufficiently broad to embrace both sections has been its only guide, and it refers now with honest pride to its record to show that it has not turned to the right or the left under all the violence of arbitrary power.

True to its principles as THE NEWS has been through the reign of terror, it challenges public confidence in its honesty and independence for the future.

The political transition of the present day opens to THE NEWS a new and wider field of usefulness. Standing now as it always has, on the inviolability of the Constitution, according to the interpretation of the strict constructionists, it presents a rallying ground for all, in both sections, who are friends of a generous conservatism. As a true and tried exponent of sectional amity it occupies a position which makes it the fitting mediator in holding up to the party of order in both sections, interests and principles that gave breadth and vitality to their alliance. As an intersectional agent, devoted to freedom of election, to trial by jury, to the sanctity of the habeas corpus, and opposed now, as for four years of terror it has been, to the centralization that dares to trample on the rights of States, North or South, THE NEWS places itself as a candidate for support before the great body of this once free people.

The circumstances of the moment make the dissemination of the principles of THE NEWS a duty of individual patriotism. Every man who concurs in its doctrines must if he entertain a true sense of freedom, do so in no spirit of indifference, but rather with the earnestness of a high trust. Justified, nay bound in his love of liberty to do so, the proprietor places the canvass he makes here of the public generally in the hands of those men who give him the approval of their consciences as his individual agents. Every reader of the THE NEWS cannot avoid the conviction of duty which is here pointed out as the ground of the request, that he urges his claims for a wider support upon all of his friends and neighbors who give their earnest sympathies to the cause of "strict construction," intersectional conciliation, and all the rights of the citizen under the system set up by our fathers of liberty regulated by law. The proprietor of THE NEWS calls, therefore, upon true and good conservatives throughout the country to discharge, to their convictions of political right at this great crisi in the country's fortunes, the duty of giving to the influence of his paper, daily, semi-weekly, or weekly, the wider power for good which it seeks here through the service of its individual supporters.

HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU.

HELMBOLD'S BUCHU
HELMBOLD'S BUCHU.
HELMBOLD'S BUCHU.

The only known remedy for

DIABETES,

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER, INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, CATARRH OF THE BLADDER, STRANGURY OR PAINFUL URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms.

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back and through the hips? A teaspoonful a day of Helmbold's Buchu will relieve you.

PHYSICIANS AND OTHERS

PLEASE NOTICE.

I make no secret of ingredients. Helmbold's Extract Buchu is composed of Buchu, Cubebs, and Juniper Berries, selected with great care, prepared in vacuo and according to rules of

PHARMACY AND CHEMISTRY,

These ingredients are known as the most valuable Diuretics afforded.

A DIURETIC

Is that which acts upon the kidneys.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

ACTS GENTLY,

Is pleasant in taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and immediate in its action.

FOR THE SATISFACTION OF ALL,

See Medical Properties contained in Dispensatory of the U. S., of which the following is a correct copy:

"BUCHU.—Its odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, its taste bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Diseases of the Prostrate, and Retention or the Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy."

FROM THE

LARGEST

MANUFACTURING CHEMIST

IN THE WORLD.

I am acquainted with H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the drug store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise.

WM. WEIGHTMAN,
(Firm of Powers & Weightman,)
Manufacturing Chemists,
Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

[From the Philad'a Evening Bulletin, Mar.. 10.]

We are gratified to hear of the continued success, in New York, of our townsman, Mr. H. T. Helmbold, Druggist. His store, next to the Metropolitan Hotel, is 28 feet front, 230 feet deep, and five stories in height. It is certainly a grand establishment, and speaks favorably of the merit of his articles. He retains his Office and Laboratory in this city, which are also model establishments of their class.

The proprietor has been indused to make this statement from the fact that his remedies, although advertised, are

GENUINE PREPARATIONS,

And, knowing that the intelligent refrain from using any thing pertaining to Quackery, or the Patent Medicine order—most of which are prepared by self-styled Doctors, who are too ignorant to read a physician's simplest prescription, much less competent to prepare pharmaceutical preparations.

SHRINERS BALSAMIC COUGH SYRUP.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Bronchitis, Spitting Blood, Pain and Weakness of the Breast, Difficulty of Breathing, &c.

This is no new remedy. It has been used for a number of years in Maryland and parts of Pennsylvania, and has, wherever known, acquired an unprecedented reputation for curing the various diseases for which it is recommended.

So apparent is its usefulness, and so remarkabl has been its cures, that it is fast superceding every other remedy for those diseases. The afflicted can rely upon its doing as much for them, and in many cases more than any other remedy now be ore the public.

It is recommended and prescribed in the practice of a large number of the most intelligent and able physicians of Maryland. It is used and considered an indispensable household remedy by a large portion of the first families of the State.

It is used by all classes of society, and the universal opinion is that it is good. This Syrup is Purely Vegetable Compound. It is pleasant to take, and never does injury. But owing to its purifying qualities, must do good under any circumstances. Its effects are truly wonderful, soothing, calming, and allaying the most violent coughs, purifying, strengthening and invigoratng the whole system, calming and soothing the nerves; aiding and facilitating expectoration, and healing the thus striking at the root of disease, and driving it from the system.

CROUP.

This disease is announced by difficulty of breathing, shrill whistling or wheezing, hacking cough and threatened suffocation, &c. It mostly occurs in young children. No child need die of croup if this Syrup is properly used and used in time.—Mothers having croupy children should watch the first show of the disease, and always keep this remedy at hand.

For coughs after measles this syrup is most excellent. Experience has proven that it is equalled by no other preparation.

The price of the remedy is such as to place it within the reach of all, the poor as well as the rich, and every person should have it.

Every person should have it in the house. It is a true and faithful friend to all who value health and wish to secure themselves against that most terrible disease, consumption. It will be found the most useful as well as the cheapest family medicine in the world. It has been used for the last four years with a success without a parallel.

Price 50 cts. per bottle.

SHRINER'S INDIAN VERMIFUGE.

Since the introduction of this beautiful preparation, it has been steadily advancing into public favor. Its astonishing efficacy in expelling worms has won for it many friends wherever known, and these are speaking its praise to others, so that it is fast being introduced into every family in the land. The demand for it is becoming immense.—To make it still more worthy the preference already shown it, the PROPRIETOR is putting it up in a much handsomer style than formerly. It is now prepared with the greatest care of uniform strength, with plain directions, so that any one can administer it.

IT IS ENTIRELY VEGETABLE---PERFECTLY SAFE AND HARMLESS.

And has never been known to fail to expel worms, where worms existed. The proprietors boldly assert that it is superior to any other preparation in the world.

FOUTZ'S

CELEBRATED

HORSE AND CATTLE

POWDERS.

THESE Powders have proved after a trial of several years, to be superior to any preparation of the kind in use The chief superiority of these powders arises from the fact that they are composed of medicines that have Laxative, Tonic and Purifying properties. The laxative ejects crudities from the stomach and intestines, the tonic gives strength to the system of the Horse, and the purifying medicines contained in them cleanse the blood, and lay the foundation for a vigorous and healthy circulation. The use of them improves the wind, strengthens the appetite and gives tne horse a fine, smooth and glossy skin—thus improving the appearance, vigor and spirit of this noble animal.

These powders are not intended, as most powders are, to bloat the animal, so as to give him the appearance of being fat when not really so—but, to remove the disease and promote his general health.

These powders will strengthen the stomach and intestines, cleanse them from offensive matter, and bring them to a healthy state. They are a sure preventive of Lung Fever, and a certain remedy for all diseases incident to the Horse, as Glanders, Yellow Water, Distempers, Founder, Heaves, Slaveirng, Coughs, Fevers, Loss of Appetite, and Vital Energy, &c—These Powders, if used two or three times a week, through the winter and spring, your horse will never get the Lung Fever, Colic or Botts. A few doses of these powders will remove the worst cough, on any horse. Were owners of horses to feed a few of these powders every year, they might save the lives of many valuable horses.

MILCH COWS.

The properties this powder possesses in increasing the quantity of milk in cows, gives it an importance and value which should place it in the hands of every person keeping a cow. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

HOGS.

In all diseases of swine, as coughs, ulcers in the lungs and liver, &c., by putting from half a paper to a paper of these powders in a barrel of swill, the above diseases can be cured or entirely prevented. By using these powders the hog cholera can be prevented.

Prepared by S. A. FOUTZ, Westminster, Md.

☞For sale at the Drug Stores of Reamer and Harry, Bedford Pa. Aug. 11, '65—1y.
